

+1-833-543-2021 - How does Flair handle missed flights?

If you have chosen an extremely affordable airline, Flair, for your departure, you have decided to pick the best. But what if you have accidentally and unintentionally missed your flight? We understand that it can be a stressful and costly situation with budget airlines, as their policies are strict. However, you don't need to worry when we exist. Below are the critical details for you.

The Flair Missed Flight Policy-

- If you fail to catch the flight before the closing gate and you do not inform the airline staff as well, your ticket will be cancelled.
- Flair missed flight policy is known as a no-show, which will cancel the full value of your ticket.
- They do not let you travel with that ticket anymore, and a refund will also not be provided in this scenario.
- If you have multiple legs in your previous ticket, every leg will be automatically cancelled.

- You must avoid this situation at any cost to save your ticket by checking in on time. The closing time is strict, and if you are even 1 minute late after that, your boarding will be denied.
- Never wait for your arrival at the airport to check in and use the online sources to complete this formality.
- Also, reach the airport with enough time to complete the formalities, and if you have a digital boarding pass, directly go to the security when you don't have checked bags.

Practical further steps to take-

Fresh re-booking	You will be required to buy a fresh ticket according to the recent market prices, which will be higher for you due to the last-minute booking. This is the only step you can take after being marked as a no-show.
Customer service assistance	However, this airline does not allow you to arrive immediately after the departure and ask for a free rebooking on the next flight. But you can still ask the customer service agents to offer you a re-booking at a lower price, along with the fare difference. But it is never a guarantee.

Flexibilities to enjoy in exceptional cases-

If you have an exceptionally beneficial additional service known as the TravelFlex at the time of reservation, you can make a single change to your flight without paying any penalty. This change can be made when a minimum of 3 hours is left for the departure.

If you think you cannot make it to the flight right after making the reservation, you can cancel Flair Airlines Flight Tickets within a single day to get a full refund without paying any penalty.

If you can afford the Big Bundle, purchase it for more flexibility in changes and cancellations. It can provide you with a safety window when your plans change.

Frequently Asked Questions-

1- Does Flair have a no-show fee?

They do not charge any additional penalty, as cancelling the entire ticket value is itself a considerable loss.

2- What happens if I am a no-show due to medical emergencies?

Unfortunately, they do not offer any exceptions if you are going through any medical emergencies to give you a relaxation.

3- Is it better to no-show or cancel a Flair flight?

No-show can save you additional effort, but it will be an expensive step, cancellation can provide you with a cash or credit back.
